Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Business

Course Code: BBLL

Campus: Footscray Park, City Queen, City Flinders.

This course is for Continuing students only.

About this course: We understand that students' need to determine personal paths in life, customising a degree leading to individual careers. The Bachelor of Laws / Bachelor of Business offers students the flexibility and the professional development needed to do this. This double degree meets academic and professional requirements for graduates to be admitted to legal practice in Australia. It also offers graduates the opportunity to develop their skill, knowledge and professional acumen across a range of business specialisations, preparing them for careers in the legal community, business and government. This course provides a focus on both practical and theoretical learning, both in legal profession and in other business settings.

Course Objectives: On successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Integrate conceptual understandings of the Australian legal system, fundamental areas of legal and business knowledge and relevant specialist bodies of knowledge within the disciplines of law and business;
2. Review, analyse, adapt and apply broad and coherent theoretical and technical knowledge of law and business and underlying principles and concepts in diverse contemporary local and international comparative contexts;
3. Identify, articulate and respond to legal and business issues by analysing and applying information with initiative and judgement in order to both anticipate and creatively solve problems and promote justice in authentic/contemporary professional, community and global settings;
4. Exhibit professional accountabilities and ethical judgement, by evaluating, synthesising and adapting knowledge, skills, legal reasoning and research to make appropriate responses to legal issues that reflect the legal, social, political and contextual factors;
5. Communicate a clear, coherent and independent exposition of knowledge and skills appropriate for legal and non-legal audiences, in both oral and written form;
6. Reflect on personal learning and skills in relation to career goals and implement effective, creative strategies to promote lifelong learning and pathways to further learning including a commitment to ongoing professional development;
7. Apply personal and interpersonal competencies including organisational and collaborative skills, necessary to operate in the immensely divergent and complex global and Australian cultures; and
8. Contribute effectively, with personal accountability for outcomes in a dynamic 21st century work team, working in an ethical and socially responsible manner.

Careers: Graduates will meet the academic requirements as required by the Victorian Legal Admissions Board. Admission as an Australia lawyer can be obtained after successful completion of the 'practical legal training' requirements. They also have the opportunity to begin careers in a legal capacity in a government department or agency such as Treasury or Foreign Affairs at a federal level or in state government. They may also begin a career in community legal centres supporting legal access in particular geographic locations. There is also the opportunity to begin a career in-house in a profit or not-for-profit business. This is where the flexibility of the Bachelor of Business really allows graduates to focus their career opportunities, by developing their skill, knowledge-base and professional acumen in their business specialisation of choice.

Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Arts

Course Code:BLAA

Campus:Footscray Park, City Queen.

This course is for Continuing students only.

About this course:We understand students' need to determine personal paths in life, creating a degree leading to individual careers. The Bachelor of Laws /Bachelor of Arts offers students the flexibility and needed to do this. This double degree provides the student with a broad ranging program so that the student can meet the academic and professional requirements in law (for admission to legal practice in Australia). It also offers graduates the opportunity to develop their skill, knowledge and professional acumen across a range of Arts specialisations, preparing them for careers not only in the legal community, but also in the corporate and community sectors, government and non-government organisations. The course provides a focus on both practical and theoretical learning.

Course Objectives:On successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Integrate conceptual understandings of the Australian legal system, fundamental areas of legal knowledge and relevant specialist bodies of knowledge within the disciplines of law and humanities.
2. Review, analyse, adapt and apply broad and coherent theoretical and technical knowledge of law and underlying principles and concepts in diverse contemporary local and international comparative contexts,
3. Identify, articulate and respond to legal and humanities issues by analysing and applying information with initiative and judgement in order to both anticipate and creatively solve problems and promote justice in authentic/contemporary professional, community and global settings.

4. Exhibit professional accountabilities and ethical judgment, by evaluating, synthesizing and adapting knowledge, skills, legal reasoning and research to make appropriate responses to legal issues that reflect the legal, social, political and contextual factors
5. Communicate a clear, coherent and independent exposition of knowledge and skills appropriate for legal and non-legal audiences, in both oral and written form;
6. Reflect on personal learning and skills in relation to career goals and implement effective, creative strategies to promote lifelong learning and pathways to further learning including a commitment to ongoing professional development.
7. Apply personal and interpersonal competencies including organisational and collaborative skills, necessary to operate in the immensely divergent and complex global and Australian cultures.
8. Contribute effectively, with personal accountability for outcomes in a dynamic 21st century work team, working in an ethical and socially responsible manner.

Careers:The Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Arts will continue to produce graduates with a comprehensive knowledge of law and contemporary issues concerning society, ensuring that they are 'profession ready' and suitably equipped for a successful career in business, government or the community sector. According to the Market Assessment study conducted for Victoria University by Growth Solutions Group in 2013 the legal Services industry industry has experienced growth since 2005, and is forecasted to continue to grow until 2016/17. Graduates of the Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Arts meet the academic and professional requirements to be admitted to legal practice in Australia. A recent nation-wide survey conducted for the Higher Education Learning and Teaching Performance Fund for 2009 rated VU (with a score of 85.5) as the top university in Australia for getting its humanities, arts and education students into full-time employment. In common with Australian and international BAs, the graduate destination for VU BA graduates is less defined than in more specialist courses: rather the course provides a basis for further specialisation or development in areas that include, but are by no means limited to, librarianship, teaching, public service and community work. Another traditional graduate destination for a small number of BA graduates has been further academic study. Currently, further academic study in the area of specialisation is offered in the VU Honours program, which is a discrete course and traditionally offers a pathway into higher degree study.

Master of Laws (Applied Migration Law)

Course Code: LMAM

Campus: City Queen.

This course is for Continuing students only.

About this course: The Master of Laws degree offered by the College of Law and Justice at Victoria University is a postgraduate law program which meets the Australian Quality Standards (AQF) at Level 9, and is available for both law and selected non-law graduates. The Master of Laws (Applied Migration Law) degree is a specialist postgraduate law program which provides students with a sophisticated understanding of the legal and regulatory framework relating to the Australian migration advice sector. Migration agents, legal practitioners, professionals in government and those seeking to gain an advanced understanding in migration law and policy, undertaking this specialist degree, are able to explore topics of national and international importance across a range of complex legal issues. The Master of Laws (Applied Migration Law) degree has a practical and applied focus within its specialisation in migration law. Areas of emphasis include refugee law, comparative migration law, international labour movement, recent court decisions impacting on the operation of the Migration Act and Regulations, and future directions in migration law and policy. Human rights issues surrounding migration decision making and other social factors that governments consider when enacting migration law policies – issues such as citizenship, belonging (identity) and policy enforcement are also explored. Other topics covered include:

- social change, globalisation and the theories of human and labour mobility;
- the complex and current issues, and professional and ethical standards faced by migration agents;

- international law and national securities law regarding migration issues;
- inconsistencies between the law and migration policies; and
- the relation of politics to migration law and policy developments.

This degree requires the completion of 192 credit points in total comprising of both core and elective units. The degree structure includes units of study that are common to all Master of Laws programs offered by the College of Law and Justice at Victoria University, in addition to a series of core and elective units of study within the specialist area of migration law. This ensures that the program involves not only study in a general Master of Laws, but also a rigorous specialisation in applied migration law. The applied focus of the migration law specialisation is reflected in the course structure, including students' ability to choose between undertaking a minor research thesis or a capstone research project as part of the degree. Students who successfully complete the Migration Agents Registration Authority (MARA) Prescribed Units (included in this course) and the MARA Common Tasks within those units are recognised by MARA as satisfying requisite academic knowledge for initial registration as a migration agent. Students should note however that there are additional requirements for registration as a migration agent. These include the requirement to be an Australian permanent resident or an Australian citizen, as well as meeting character requirements. Students should consult MARA for further information.

Course Objectives: On successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. critically assess and review conceptual frameworks, theories and principles and exhibit advanced technical knowledge of migration and administrative law employing independent judgement;
2. interpret relevant requirements of the migration and administrative law contextualised by cross-disciplinary and industry knowledge to initiate creative, innovative solutions to multi-faceted problems which respect and value client diversity;
3. demonstrate expert judgement in assessing complex law and facts and advocating in different ways for regulatory decisions for a range of stakeholders, including briefs of evidence, responses to official queries and written and oral arguments, while balancing the interests of individuals and public good;
4. exemplify ethical and professional standards in the provision of migration law advice to clients both independently and also as a member of a team;
5. exhibit responsibility and accountability for own learning and professional practice in collaboration with others and within broad parameters; and
6. plan and execute a substantial research project using appropriate research, scholarly and professional skills which demonstrate intellectual independence and which contribute significantly to the knowledge and evidence base in the migration law discipline.

Careers: The course prepares graduates to gain employment as a Registered Migration Agent with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority, or/and as a specialist migration lawyer, a community law advisor or advocate, a public servant with the Department of Immigration and Border Protection, in addition to work in a range of advisory roles with community and professional organisations. Graduates of the Master of Laws (Applied Migration Law) who complete the Minor Research Thesis within this course may be eligible to apply for entry into Higher Degree by Research (HDR) Doctoral programs including the Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Law. Note: the Master of Laws (Applied Migration Law) is not an appropriate course for students seeking academic qualifications for initial admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. The appropriate courses for students who wish to achieve this outcome would be the Bachelor of Laws or the Bachelor of Laws (Graduate Entry) offered by the College of Law and Justice at Victoria University.

Course Duration: 2 years

Admission Requirements: Completion of an Australian Bachelor degree (or equivalent) in any discipline OR Completion of an Australian Graduate Diploma (or equivalent) in a similar discipline OR Applicants without an undergraduate qualification may be admitted to the Graduate Diploma based on approved work experience.
